

TOMORROW PRIMARY ELECTION TO AFFECT RACE FOR PRESIDENT

Legislative Candidates Nominated by Republicans, Democrats and Socialists Will Choose Tickets

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The first primary election involving the ultimate selection of presidential electors, under the new California direct primary law, amended at the last special session of the legislature, will be held September 3rd. The election centers around the choice of the Taft and Roosevelt supporters for control of the party machinery of the state. Governor Hiram W. Johnson's political allies contend that if they succeed in nominating presidential electors pledged to Roosevelt, they will be entitled to the Republican party designation on the ballot in the November election. The Taft adherents take the ground that this action of the Republican convention in nominating President Taft committed the state to choice of Republican electors pledged to their candidate.

The names of Republican, Democratic and Socialist candidates will appear on the ballot on Tuesday's primary. The Republican party not being represented on account of its failure to secure 2 per cent of the votes cast in the last state election. Eighty candidates for the assembly and twenty for the senate will be on the ballot. These numbers, with the hold-over senators of each party, will constitute the state convention. All three state conventions will be held in Sacramento, September 24th. The Republican party, having fourteen hold-over members, will have a total of 114 at the state convention; the Democrats, with six hold-overs, 106, and the Socialists, 106. The conventions will nominate thirteen presidential electors each, one from each of the congressional districts and two additional.

TAFT MEN PETITION
Taking into account the victory of the Progressive faction at the last state election, the Taft followers are planning to compel electors by separate petition after the convention, in the event of the selection of candidates pledged to Roosevelt. Whether the Taft wing of the party will be entitled to a designation on the ballot which will indicate the backing of their candidates is still a matter of contention between the two factions. The Taft supporters challenge the right of the state convention, elected by the use of the legal constitutionally prescribed method, to place on the ballot the names of candidates for the nomination of another party. The Progressive leaders maintain that precedent exists by which any party convention might place on the ballot the names of candidates of any other party for any office.

Alvin Codd, a San Francisco attorney, has raised the question of the right of the hold-over senators to participate in the selection of the electors. He has filed a petition with the Superior Court to prevent the electors from placing on the ballot the names of candidates for the nomination of another party. The Progressive leaders maintain that precedent exists by which any party convention might place on the ballot the names of candidates of any other party for any office.

ELECTION OF JUDGES
The state primary law provides that the election of judges and senators shall be held on the same day. The candidates for these offices will not appear in party groups at Tuesday's election. One-third of the total number of judges in each county that will be elected in November, that number being determined by the constitution, will appear in party groups at Tuesday's election. The candidates for these offices will not appear in party groups at Tuesday's election. WILSON GAINS AVOIRPOIS.
NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Governor Wood Wilson found today that he was in the heavyweight class as far as avoirdupois was concerned. The correspondents accompanying him were trying the nation scales at New York, N. Y., while the governor waited for a train early tonight.

FISHER POORER BY $610 IN FINES
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—Poorer by $610 in fines, Secretary Fisher of the Department of the Interior, sailed today on the Japanese liner Chicago for Honolulu, where he will investigate the opposition to his appointment as governor of Hawaii. The federal government collects $200 for every passenger carried by foreign vessels between American ports and Secretary Fisher is traveling with his wife and Secretary. The amount of the fines was added to his baggage money. The additional $410 was imposed yesterday by a Panama justice at the port, who found that Harry Griffin, Secretary Fisher's chauffeur, had exceeded the speed limit.

NOMINATION IS RIGHT
CANON LAKE, N. H., Sept. 1.—Chapman Clark took the nomination of Massachusetts at his own house yesterday, day that he believed now and would believe that he was entitled to the Democratic nomination for President this year.

But under the two-thirds rule Wilson and Marshall were nominated and I never had a Democratic ticket and never will, he added.

UNION STATION IN SACRAMENTO MAY TAKE PLACE OF CHINATOWN

(Special to the Republican).
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 1.—Suite brought by the Oakland and San Francisco Railway to construct a railroad property at the corner of Third and I streets for a terminal site confirms stories to the effect that steps are being taken by representatives of various electric lines for a union terminal.
The railroad building has a frontage of 240 feet on I street and it is 160 feet deep. It is ideal for the purpose. It is understood he is asking between $175,000 and $200,000 for it. Since this news has been out there has been a stiffening up of the street level. It is almost impossible to get a figure on I street property now. One very desirable change that the new deal will bring about will be the removal of Chinatown from I street. It now seems as though Chinatown would move in the vicinity of Fourth and M. Near the present Japanese quarters. Several Chinese merchants have already bought property in that locality in anticipation of moving there in the future.

FLYING LEGION IS BACK FROM TRIP

Interests of Panama Fair Greatly Strengthened in the Northwest

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The California "Flying Legion" which carried the tidings of the coming Panama-Pacific exposition through the Northwest, arrived here today on its special train after ten days of a very successful tour. The legion, composed of a band, a chorus, and a troupe of actors, has been making a tour of the Northwest, and a stop was made at Shasta, where a large number of people gathered to see the legion. The legion is now on its way back to the coast.

HAVANA, Sept. 1.—The anxiety with which President Gomez regards the Gibson affair was made evident tonight when he sent a personal message to President Taft expressing his regret that the American charge d'affaires had been assaulted by a foolish, irresponsible person, and declaring that the man would be severely and quickly punished.

WILL NOT BUILD BETTER STATIONS

Head of Harriman Lines Says Business Does Not Justify It

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—That elaborate passenger stations must be classed among the luxuries rather than the necessities of railroad business, was the opinion expressed by Judge Robert S. Lovett, executive head of the Harriman lines and chairman of the board of directors of the Southern Pacific Railway Company, who arrived in San Francisco today on an inspecting tour. Judge Lovett was commenting on the probability of the building of new stations in California.

ROOSEVELT SHOWS CLEAN RECORD IN CAMPAIGN OF 1904

Gives Detailed Statement of Repudiation of Corporate Influence—Penrose Confessed Corruptionist

OYSTER BAY, Sept. 1.—Colonel Roosevelt made public tonight his long awaited statement repudiating the charges made by Senator Clapp, chairman of the Senate committee investigating campaign contributions, in reply to the campaign testimony of John D. Archbold and Senator Penrose regarding an alleged contribution of $100,000 by Archbold to the Republican campaign of 1904.

The letter is a document of approximately 16,000 words. About one-third of it is devoted to copies of correspondence with Colonel Roosevelt, while President, with James S. Sherman, now Vice President, Senator Bourne and others, and to the reply of President Roosevelt to the charge made by John D. Archbold. The letter is a document of approximately 16,000 words. About one-third of it is devoted to copies of correspondence with Colonel Roosevelt, while President, with James S. Sherman, now Vice President, Senator Bourne and others, and to the reply of President Roosevelt to the charge made by John D. Archbold.

UNQUALIFIED FALSEHOOD.
The letter, in part, follows:
"The charge against Mr. Penrose was a direct charge. That he took $25,000 from the Standard Oil Company, but that at the time of this taking it, while a member of a committee of the Senate which was formed to investigate industrial affairs in the United States he was in constant communication with Mr. Archbold on the subject of the report of the commission. If these statements are true, of course Mr. Penrose is unfit to represent the people in the United States Senate and the testimony against him, the correct. Apparently, however, the commission is investigating not this charge, but a charge of direct evidence, but Mr. Penrose's counter charge, which was sustained by no evidence at all, and only by the repetition of second-hand gossip."

ASKED NO CONTRIBUTIONS
"I have never discussed the question of contributions in any letter that I wrote him or any conversation I had with him. From Mr. Bliss as from Mr. Cortelyou, I received the explicit statement that no promise had been made and no obligation entered into in connection with the campaign. I have been received or would be entered into in connection with any contribution that might be received in the future."

FRENCH LANDHOLDERS TO TAKE UP APPEAL

Will Ask Arbitration for Claims in Quebec
Province

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—The descendants of the French Seigneur, the noblemen who were granted much of the land in Quebec province under the French regime prior to 1783, and who represented the crown of France in several ancient treaties at the time of the cession of Canada to Great Britain, have determined to demand that their grievances be arbitrated before the Hague tribunal.

They assert that they are being deprived of lands in this province which they should still possess by virtue of the treaties referred to, and that their claims should not be argued before any British court, as they represent the crown of France, and only some international tribunal of arbitration is competent to deal with them.

The latest move is to draw up a memorial to the secretary of state of the United States, asking that this government insist that their case be dealt with by the Hague before any arbitration is permitted in the Panama canal case, as their claims ante-date those of the British government in the Panama canal matter.

BRITISH STEAMER IS WRECKED IN PACIFIC

Part of Crew Reaches Falkland Island, But Rest Not Heard From

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—The marine department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has received mail advices of the wreck of the British steamer Cricketh, which was wrecked on Falkland island in the south Pacific. Part of her crew is missing. The vessel, which was well known in Pacific waters, was bound from Balboa to Port Stanley. One of the life boats had reached Port Stanley, Falkland island, from which the information came, but the other, in command of Chief Officer Dale, had not been heard from.

Captain R. Thomas, his wife and child and fourteen members of the life boat which reached Port Stanley. The ship was abandoned July 15th, in latitude 44 north, longitude 51 west, with her rudder and stern post broken. After a voyage to Port Pirie the Cricketh Castle crossed the Pacific to Callao and loaded homeward at Callao island June 5.

CHARGED WITH FRAUD IN AUTOMOBILE SALE

DENVER, Sept. 1.—Charged with being a party to a fraudulent automobile sale, Clarence P. Hutchinson, whose parents are prominent residents of Phoenix, Ariz., is in jail here, awaiting the fact that his sweetheart, said to be a wealthy Los Angeles woman, will turn of his disgrace.

"She will never forgive me. If she finds I am in jail," he said today, refusing, however, to give her name.

Hutchinson, a well-known Los Angeles, signed "Geneva," was found in his pockets when he was arrested last night at the instance of an automobile company, who charged that he had conspired with a salesman in disposing of a machine, representing it as their property.

Letters of recommendation from business men in Phoenix, Los Angeles and other cities in the West were found on his person. At the time of his arrest he wore diamonds valued at $1,000.

STABS FELLOW CONVICT.

A Plain Statement FROM A Plain Plainsman

It is generally conceded that the voters of this year will look well into the qualifications of the candidates for office. It is my duty to state that I am not a lawyer, nor a doctor, nor a politician, nor a man of any other kind. I am a plain plainsman, and I am here to tell you the truth as I see it.

In the beginning, I wish to state that I am not a lawyer, nor a doctor, nor a politician, nor a man of any other kind. I am a plain plainsman, and I am here to tell you the truth as I see it.

I have been in California since 1874, and I have seen many changes. I have seen the state grow from a small settlement to a great nation. I have seen the people become more educated and more civilized. I have seen the state become more united and more prosperous. I am here to tell you the truth as I see it.

I believe that the state should be more united and more prosperous. I believe that the people should be more educated and more civilized. I am here to tell you the truth as I see it.

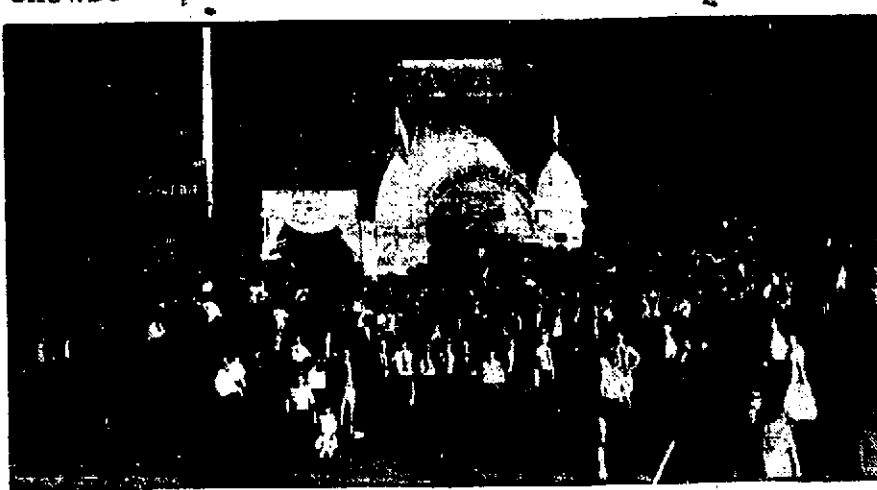

Respectfully,
ALEXANDER S. KRAMER.

CROWDS STORM PLAZA TO WITNESS EXCELLENT VAUDEVILLE

EAGER PLAZA CROWDS KEEP POPULAR PLAYHOUSE JAMMED TO CAPACITY.

From the time the Plaza Amusement company first opened its doors to the present time the crowds have steadily increased in size. During the first week the Plaza was found to be a most pleasant place to spend an evening, and the habit of spending an evening at the Plaza has become a habit with many people.

The picture shows the people pouring out from the first show, with an equally large crowd waiting patiently to enter to see the second performance. The crowd of acts that have been given right along week after week has given the Plaza an enviable reputation and has made it well worth while to wait for the second performance.

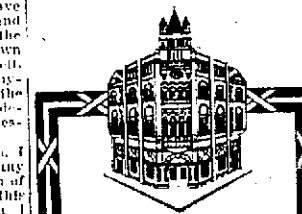

NEGRO SLUMBERS WHILE HOME BURNS

Jasper Toast Blistered on Body by Flames; Is Taken to Hospital

Awakening to find his bed and room a mass of flames, Jasper Toast, a negro, residing at 1739 E street, early yesterday barely escaped from his home before the structure collapsed. The cause of the fire and people shouting on the outside did not awaken Toast and he was asleep in his room as the flames ate through the walls and set fire to the bedding. The heat blistered Toast's body in several different places to such an extent that he had to be treated at the emergency hospital. He was later removed to the county hospital, where at a late hour last night he was reported to be resting easily.

The origin of the two early morning blazes which ended the fire department to the corner of K and Santa Clara streets and San Joaquin and C streets is unknown and will go down to the streets in Fire Chief Whitehead's words. While yesterday there was some talk that the fire that resulted in the destruction of five houses, was likely of incendiary origin, Fire Chief Whitehead said that there was no foundation on which to base the rumor.

W. W. Evans, manager at Park and Washington, placed a supply of Justice of the Peace Office, to selling a cheaper grade of malted milk from pure in which "Horlick's Malted Milk" had been blown and when Horlick's Malted Milk was called for. He was paid 25c and costs. The complaint was signed by Food Commissioner Bailey, who is determined to stop the practice of substituting one brand of goods for another without notification of the substitution being made. NEW LAW IN FORCE; CLERKS IDLE SUNDAY

Two Holidays Will Pile Up Mail in Postoffice for Wednesday

The whimsy of the postoffice all remained closed yesterday, in accordance with the law just passed by Congress, which provides that no work except that of special delivery mail, only two or three men were on duty yesterday, and no mail was distributed in mail boxes. Mail was dispatched as before.

The two holidays coming together on the day of the month is going to congest the mail for the postal force, and they will be snowed under Wednesday. The new Sunday law will always entail extra work on Monday morning, and the clerks will have to go on duty at an unusually early hour to distribute the mail, and when two holidays come together, this congestion will be so much the worse. The postoffice will be open one hour today, from 4 to 5 o'clock. There will be only one delivery tomorrow, on account of the large mass of mail.

NEW PATROLMAN IS SENT ON FIRST CALL

Shortly after Patrolman Greening, Fresno's new custodian of the peace, had donned his uniform yesterday morning, he was called to 530 N. street, where it was reported that two suspicious looking men were hanging around. Greening answered the call in all possible haste, but ere he arrived the suspicious looking men had taken their departure and the new patrolman was greeted by the frightened neighbors. The new detail will take effect at midnight Saturday, when Patrolman Hansen is "bell boy" at police headquarters and Patrolman Maher on the relief detail.

FIREMEN AND COPS END BUSY MONTH

Fresno policemen last month made 250 arrests and the fire department answered 25 alarms, four of which were false alarms and one outside the city limits. Chief of Police Jones and Fire Chief Whitehead the first of the week will prepare their reports, which will be submitted to the police and fire commissioners Thursday night.

AUGUST COOL, SAYS WEATHER BUREAU

System of Rain Warnings
To Outside Towns
Now in Use

The monthly meteorological summary issued by the local office of the Weather Bureau shows that the average daily temperature for August was 77.7 degrees. This is 3.5 degrees below the August normal and yet August this year was not so cool as the same month in 1911, which will be remembered as a very pleasant one. The warmest August of the last twenty-five years was that of 1891, with its average of 84 degrees, and the coolest 1898, with an average daily temperature of 75 degrees.

The highest was 103 degrees on the 20th, and the lowest, 54 degrees on the 20th. The highest daily range was 49 degrees on the 22nd, from a minimum of 55 degrees to a maximum of 104 degrees, and the lowest daily range was 30 degrees on the 29th, from 54 degrees to 84 degrees. The average maximum or high temperature was 84.4 degrees, and the average minimum, or low temperature was 61 degrees, as compared with the respective normals, 88 and 61.

With respect to the state of sky, days are classified as clear, partly cloudy and cloudy in weather bureau records. Every day in August was a clear day.

There was no rain during the month, but normally none is expected in August. In the last twenty-five years, measurable rain has fallen but once in that month, the date being the 29th. In 1896, in the one August when there have been sprinkles, but absolutely no rain has fallen here in the last five Augusts.

The cool weather of August was a continuation of subnormal temperature conditions which began in March. This includes practically all of the growing season to date in which the temperature of each month has been more or less below normal. The accumulated deficiency of temperature from March 1 to August 31 was 197 degrees or about 5 degrees per day.

Aside from making the summer a pleasant one from the temperature standpoint, the cool weather may also have been of benefit agriculturally and horticulturally. In nearly all cases the effects of drought are becoming apparent, and with the normal heat of summer this year or the abnormal heat that must sometimes come, the ill effects of the drought would have been greatly intensified.

LINCOLN RETORT TO AN ARISTOCRAT

Col. William F. Stone, sergeant-at-arms of the Republican convention, was talking in Chicago, apropos of independence day, about George Washington.

"Washington," he said, "was stately, an aristocrat. He liked pomp, show, and Lincoln, the next best man to Washington, was, on the other hand, a democrat of democrats."

An aristocrat once called on Lincoln and found him blacking his boots. "My dear Mr. Lincoln," the aristocrat said, "horrified at this sight, my master, King So-and-so, never thinks of blacking his own boots, and he is justified."

MILLION DOLLAR CO. WOULD BRING STABILITY

Strong Organization Would Stop Cutting of Prices,
Says Wrightson

If Growers Own Stock They Must Work on Purely Business Basis

By H. W. WRIGHTSON
A Million Dollar Corporation owned either by the growers or others could put stability into the raisin and dried fruit business.

If the corporation was owned by persons other than the growers, its primary purpose would be the making of money for the stockholders.

If these stockholders were largely men holding big blocks of stock—men of financial and business standing in other lines—they could, no doubt, exert enough influence to prevent the financing of smaller packing concerns that might menace their business and curtail their profits by buying from the growers and cutting prices to the trade.

Stability in the raisin and dried fruit business means that price cutting be eliminated.

I believe that the growers have learned sufficiently well that cutting prices does not increase sales; on the contrary it retards sales because the fact that the price is cut is evidence that the price may be cut still lower; the trade buys only sufficient to satisfy the demand in this case instead of buying freely and pushing the sale of our products; they only adopt the latter policy when the price is maintained or is tending upward.

There is little doubt that a Million Dollar Corporation owned by persons other than growers could be quickly formed. In the first place the promoters of the corporation would adopt the usual method of financing the company. Fiscal agents would be employed whose business it would be to place the stock, receiving for their services a commission of possibly 10 per cent. This outlay of $100,000 would be well spent because the company would commence earning money and would be reimbursed the promotion expense.

A corporation owned by this class of stockholders would appeal to the business man and the banker because it would be a strictly commercial proposition readily accepted by commercial minds. It would command credit sufficient to transact a five million dollar business, and thus could handle the entire raisin output. And as I said before, it would be powerful enough to put smaller concerns out of business, because by threatening to cut under the small concern's over market it entered it could convince any banker that it would not be safe for him to back the small concern.

This would merely be doing business as business is done today by all large corporations and it has the effect of establishing prices, and when not carried to extremes, undoubtedly increases consumption of the article operated in.

This is what we need in the raisin industry, but do we want to accomplish it in this manner? The growers will generally say "No!" But can it be accomplished in any other manner? To this question the commercial mind will say "No!" If the Million Dollar Corporation was owned by the growers they would have to adopt the usual methods to preserve their corporation and make it profitable.

They would have to elect an intelligent board of directors who would employ a manager with a thoroughly trained business mind or the corporation would go bankrupt. A man capable of handling a business with a five million-dollar turnover is absolutely necessary if the company is to accomplish its work, the board of directors need only to outline the work of the corporation, the manager would operate it.

The growers might differ from "others" in that they might not determine that the primary purpose of the corporation was to make money for the stockholders.

To weaken their credit in the financial world because the financial mind cannot conceive any other purpose for a commercial corporation.

So, if the growers with a Million Dollar Corporation owned by themselves, for the purpose of controlling the marketing of their crops, they must adopt the methods of commercial corporations, buy as cheaply as they can, sell as high as they can, make their corporation as profitable as they can, the way they can reap for themselves the profits now going to others.

The question now arises: Would a corporation of this kind be a benefit to the entire industry? It would, whether owned by growers or others, because in either case the steadying of prices to the trade would increase consumption and the demand would grow to an extent that would warrant higher prices to the growers.

complicated much to make the Exchange a success. And to bring that Missing Million where it belongs. NOW IS THE TIME TO SECURE THAT MILLION. The sooner that million that is being lost to the raisin belt every year is brought to this section, of course the better it will be for all. But this million will not come of its own accord. Neither can we expect others to secure it for us.

We must do that ourselves. Mr. Business Man, whether or not you have joined the Raisin Exchange, it is going to be a success. But certainly you must want to join in a movement that is going to benefit you.

Sometime you are going to join. Sometime you are going to recognize the fact that it is to your interest to be affiliated with a movement that means so much to this section. But your help is needed now. Right now your assistance will do much toward forcing the success of the Raisin Exchange.

Stock in the Million Dollar company is being subscribed rapidly. But it all who are INTENDING to link themselves with this movement for the common betterment would come to the front NOW these results would be achieved just that much sooner. Think it over. For the good of all and for your own individual good consider this proposition.

The more you study it the more you will become convinced that you will be materially benefited. If you do not fully understand it, write to Mr. E. A. Berg, Treasurer, at the Raisin Exchange for literature. Or ask any member. Can you be counted on to help?

LABOR DAY

From a rather aggressive class demonstration, by the belligerent faction of a single class, Labor Day has become one of the best recognized general holidays. It is no longer confined exclusively to union men, and union men are no longer regarded as a faction of a class. Not all laboring men are organized, and some of them may even be hostile to organization, but in general the unions act as the organized representatives of the labor interests. And sensible men of all classes are coming to regard them, in this capacity, not as assailants of the normal order of society, but rather as its most useful conservators. In these days of European syndicalism and its American I. W. W. imitation, to say nothing of the world-wide Socialistic attack on the whole system of capital and wages, the trades' unions, which accept the existing order and make the best bargains they can under it, seem conservative by contrast.

Labor Day is also a reminder of the improved social status of the workers. There was a time when the working people were commonly referred to as the "lower classes." There are European countries where the phrase is still current. Perhaps the most useful function of the labor-day parades or self-respecting and respected working men is to dispel the last traces of this illusion from either spectators or participants. This is no pitiable proletarian, seeking sympathy or breathing defiance, which parades the streets of every American city, but a band of sturdy American producers, proud of their callings and their status, who once a year make public showing of their numbers, their strength and their quality. If there is any contempt or condescension anywhere, it is rather from those who produce toward those who do not do so.

Three things have contributed to this improved status of the laboring people—wages, education and organization. The man who wears overalls and does the roughest work of life is now no longer the worst paid, but in general the better paid, of those who work for wages. The mechanic works shorter hours for higher wages than the clerk. Universal education has given the mechanic the same opportunities for schooling in his youth that any one else has; his work is in itself educative; and he has larger leisure and better organized opportunity than the member of any other class for subsequent education. It has become, therefore, almost a commonplace to expect larger views and a better grasp of public affairs from an intelligent working man than from a business man of the same intelligence. The business career is more narrowing to the individual. And, finally, organization has given to the workingman that sense of confidence which goes with power. Cringing fear, or servile self-effacement, the qualities which shrivel the soul, are not characteristic of the working class. In fact, the man who has to guard against their dwarfing effect is again not the working man, but the business man in those walks which make for timidity.

So, with prosperity, intelligence and the self-consciousness of power, the laboring man today walks erect and proud, and looks at the whole world with equal eyes, unafraid and unassuamed.

ENFORCING THE LAW

The vigorous action of Sheriff Mo-Swin in the matter of enforcing the "dry" ordinance on the road houses, is entitled to commendation, imitation and continuance. These road houses had become for the most part pernicious institutions, even before they were against the law. Before the invention of the automobile, the worst of them had tended to cluster in a cordon around the city, where they could get the city's trade without being subject to the city's laws. The development of the automobile extended the range of the road-house viciousness, until the evil became one which the people very properly ferreted by law. If there were any respectable road houses left (we assume there were some), they are simply suffering for the sins of their colleagues. There will be no trouble with these. The sort of a man who would run a decent place, while the law permitted it, is going to obey the law now. The men who will make trouble are those who paid no attention to the laws of decency before, and will pay only so much attention to the statutes of the state now as they are forced to pay. It was a wise thing to pass a law against them, and it is a commendable thing to enforce that law ruthlessly. Let there be no "blind pigs" in Fresno county.

Woodrow Wilson gained seven pounds last week. President Taft signed a lot of bills, good, bad and indifferent, vetoed some bad ones and one or two good ones, and saved the commerce court. Congress adjourned. This is the news of the week, as to everything political and governmental except the Progressive candidates. As to Roosevelt and Johnson—the front pages of all the newspapers in the country have voluminously told the news of them. There is no room to summarize it here.

The issue, as to the San Francisco committee, decided by the State Republican committee Saturday was briefly this: Is a minority of the county committee, plus a majority of the national committee, a majority of the county committee?

The strengthening of pure religion as against demonstrationalism, and creeds has no clearer illustration than the honor that was paid yesterday by men of all religions to the late William Booth.

It begins to look as though Mexico might, even ask Madero to join Diaz as an historic character of the republic.

BRIEF EDITORIAL FANCIES SELECTED

Watterson In Procession.

Colonel Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal disclaims all desire to ride in the band wagon with Wilson. He says he is just going to march about with the boys, carrying a musket and doing his duty. The Colonel will do what he conceives to be his duty, but he won't carry a musket. He may be in the procession with the boys, but if he is he will be tooting a horn, and all the louder because he made the mistake of saying that the banner-bearer of the Democracy is little better than a narrow pedagogus.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Paris Mutuel.

The petition which will be voted upon provides for a Racing Commission, whose duty it will be to permit wagering on horse races by the Paris mutuel system.

Being by the Paris mutuel system is faster and easier than straight-out pool-selling, where most of the machinery for wagering is in the book-maker's hands.

But even the Paris mutuel scheme of betting, while innocent appearing outwardly, is not above the reproach of being capable of manipulation. Like the slot machine or any other device for fooling the people some of the time.

So that, notwithstanding the apparent fairness of the Paris mutuel, the mischief would be there just the same. There would be the same temptation to cheat, to bribe jockeys, "prop" horses and practice all the other shady arts of the race track. Suspicion and scandal ever go with the racetrack, and no scheme of Paris mutuelism would keep like taking California's youth and morals.—Sacramento Bee.

Alva Udell's Industry.

Alva Udell, a San Francisco lawyer, is reported to be circulating a petition for the recall of Governor Johnson.

There is about as much likelihood of Governor Johnson being recalled as there is of the legislature being convened in special session to repeal the Ten Commandments.

Alva Udell is a man with a singular genius. It consists in his ability to emerge from obscurity and precipitate himself on public notice in a most serious role. He will be remembered by Stocktonians as the man who, during the insurrection in the Philippines, carried on an extensive correspondence with Aguinaldo. His activities had a two-fold phase. In one he appeared as a sort of a secretary of state negotiating a treaty, and in another, as a revolutionary of the government's alleged conspiracy against Aguinaldo's native republic. He got some of the correspondence in the papers. It was ponderous, dignified and nerry. In itself it was enough to send the name of Mr. Udell thundering down the corridors of time. Since then, in various ways, Mr. Udell has tinkered at the affairs of San Francisco, the state and the world. Now that he has decided to oust Governor Johnson, we are reminded that his singularly astute and daring statesmanship is still at the disposal of the people.—Stockton Record.

Therapeutic Anarchists.

In many of the poor sections of Chicago it is quite impossible to get a prescription filled as the doctor ordered it. The druggist often disregards the written instructions of the physician and substitutes some other, cheaper drug. Where a drug is highly expensive it is frequently left out altogether. Or else the druggist will give a third or fourth of the amount of the physician prescribed, which is little better than entirely eliminating the drug, as the small amount given produces no result.

Time and again the physician will arm himself against substitution by the druggist by underscoring the particular drug for emphasis. He will even put the warning down, "Do not substitute," in black and white on the prescription, only to have it disregarded.

The therapeutic anarchists, as this class of druggists are branded, are

GUSTAV EISEN TELLS OF PLANTING OF FIRST DATE TREES IN 1874 IN FRESNO

Editor Republican:—Today I received by mail from a friend in San Francisco a clipping from a paper, as far as I can make out, published either in Fresno or Los Angeles. The clipping presents a photographic view of the date trees in the date vineyard in Fresno, together with some notes about these trees. Some of these notes are not correct, and it is on this account that I address you.

The seeds from which these date palms have come were planted by myself during the years 1874, 1875 and 1876. All were started in beds, and later, a year after the first planting, that is, in 1877, sixty trees were set out in their permanent places. The soil in which they were set was, and is, undesirable for the full and proper development of the date palm. I knew this when I planted them, but there was no other plot of ground handy, all the ground either occupied by vineyards or exposed to innumerable sheep, horses, rabbits and the like, which at that time infested the country around the vineyard. I had then to select a place near the house, which was more protected, even if it was less suitable, there being a clay-hardpan close to the surface on this particular place. Even the topsoil is poor. If under such conditions the dates have borne, so much the better.

As regards the origin of the seeds, I first found the very best dates I could find in San Francisco in 1874. But later in 1875 and '76 received various lots from the garden of Mrs. Cutillos of Hermosillo, in Sonora, Mexico. The seeds of these later dates, (entirely unlike the dates of Southern California) differed in size and shape from the Arabian dates procured in San Francisco, being very thin and oblong, and pointed to a much greater extent than any seeds from Arabia that I have seen before or since. The quality and quantity of the Sonora dates was exceedingly fine, and in many respects equal to the best yellow dates from Tunis. They were very long, oblong, I should say about three inches in length, very sweet and highly flavored. In that they were superior to any dates in the San Francisco market, and even now, since I have become acquainted with the Tunisian and Egyptian dates, in their native places, I recognize that these Hermosillo dates had nothing to lose and much to win by comparison.

Their only defect was that they belonged to the "tipping kind," and thus were not as suited to the Fresno climate as earlier kinds. But I hoped that among the seeds some would prove adapted to the climate of the San Joaquin valley.

The last time I saw these dates was in 1894, the first or second year they bore mature fruit. In 1894 the fruit had not come to perfection, but the under of the physician. For the doctor suffers by the substitution of drugs as well as the patient. When the patient fails to show the expected improvement after taking the material furnished him, the physician is blamed. He, in turn, cannot defend himself by laying the blame on the druggist who did not fill the prescription properly. For the physician to initiate the lady into the secrets of his own profession would be to kill their faith in it.

This substitution of drugs, or tampering with the amount prescribed by the physician and thereby rendering the curative value of the prescription null, goes on most flagrantly in the sections of the poor, where the people who can least afford to be sick and should be given every chance to recover as speedily as possible.—Chicago Tribune.

PROFIT FROM A FEW SHEEP.

Chauncey B. Merrill of Anderson, Oregon, has demonstrated that a country boy can profitably raise sheep. Four years ago young Merrill, who was then eight years old, wanted a lamb. His father suggested having a sheep and raising the lamb. The boy bought a ewe with his own money and paid $12.50 for her. Only one ewe lamb was raised the first year.

The account now stands as follows: On hand, three young ewes and 55 pounds of wool; received for sheep and lambs $40; from wool, $17; total $57. Nothing was superior at fancy prices. The value of the flock has increased 150 per cent in four years. There is an annual profit of $18.75 on $12.50 invested, adding value of 55 pounds of wool at 22 cents. Care and feed ought not to be more than $5, and that would leave a good yearly profit of more than $10 net profit.—J. E. Taylor in Farm and Home.

WATSONVILLE GIVES

MADERA APPLE TREAT

Ball Club From Home of Big Red Apple Brings Along Good Supply

MADERA, Sept. 1.—The Watsonville Giants, who played the Madera Coyotes today, brought along with them a plentiful supply of the fruit raised in the home of "the big red apple." Autos raced up and down Yosemite avenue and the citizens were pelted with fruit larger than baseballs and much more easily caught.

In the Giants' party are Manager P. S. Snowden, an invincible booster; A. C. Gabriel, of the Fresno Valley Development Company; Umpire Nelson Crawford, Secretary Johnson and Ticket Sellers Sidney Smith and Gus Duggan.

Flinging ball is not the only mission of the Giants. They carry a large quantity of apple annual advertising as well as apples. It is the largest of the kind ever sent out of Watsonville and the Coyotes derived by that town and the Fresno Valley are expected to pay the cost a hundred fold.

CATTLE OVERSTOCK FOREST RESERVES

POTTERVILLE, Sept. 1.—W. E. Spratt, a leading business man in this district, states that the mountain pastures in the national forests are being badly overstocked with cattle, and that at the present time there is not enough feed in any of the meadows to provide for the stock of cowboys and tourists.

It is the contention of Spratt that the meadows of the hills belong to the people generally, and that the herds now grazing in the forests should be so reduced that there will be enough for the pack animals and saddle horses of those who visit the upper country.

WINTON WATER USERS

ARE TO HOLD MEETING

Will Hold Big Banquet on Saturday, Sept. 7; To Discuss Irrigation

ATWATER, Sept. 1.—A Water Users' Protective Association has been organized in Merced County, No. 1, 2 and 3, and all others owning land under the Crocker-Huffman ditches.

The water users are very active. They will hold a banquet in Winton on Saturday evening, September 7th, at which time the vital question will be discussed by Attorney C. C. Baynton and others.

Whenever two or three people meet the conversation soon drifts to the action of the water company, and what can be done about it.

A large gathering of people deeply interested in the water supply question assembled at Winton last Saturday night to take some action toward righting the wrongs of the water supply.

Attorney Baynton of San Francisco addressed the meeting, explaining to them as fully as possible their rights in the matter and the best means to avoid paying for that which they have not received or cannot get.

It was decided that the only way to get justice from the water company was to organize and stand together in the fight.

NOTED CHEMISTS TO

INSPECT OIL FIELDS

Party From Europe Scheduled to Stop Here First of Next Month

BAKERSFIELD, September 1.—A special carrying European chemists, who are studying American conditions and inspecting great industrial plants will pay a visit to this city on October 1st. They will spend their time here principally in the oil fields, studying the great oil belt and strata and the use of oil as a fuel for refining and in the fine arts.

The men in the visiting body comprise some of the most eminent chemists in Europe, and they come from Germany, France, Austria-Hungary, Russia, Italy, England and Sweden.

Their itinerary calls for six days in the state of California. The famous oil fields in this vicinity form the attraction, and they will investigate the disposal of all products, the refining and methods of extracting the crude oil from the mother earth.

The special train is due to arrive in Los Angeles, via the Santa Fe route, on September 29th, and the party will visit that city and vicinity two days. The first of October will be spent in Bakersfield, and then they will continue to San Francisco, where they will be located October 2, 3 and 4.

In Bakersfield they will inspect the facilities for handling the oil, methods of piping and loading vessels. From San Francisco the return to the East will be made by the special.

BREEDEN TALKS ON REV. THOS. T. GIFFEN LABOR PROBLEM AND CAPITAL TAKES PULPIT AT CONGREGATIONAL

Corporations Taught Toilers
That an Organization
Was Necessary

While Unions Have Blun-dered, He Asserts Their Cause Is Just

Dr. H. O. Breedon, pastor of the First Christian church, was another of the Fresno ministers to preach yesterday on the labor problem. He said in part:

The factors in the labor problem today are two—the corporation and the union.

"We have, first, the corporation, which is a combination and an organization of capital for the purpose of furthering its interests. I have nothing to say against capital as such, or corporations, if they are conducted righteously. Without them no great enterprise is possible. Without them society would collapse. The flat. They are as necessary as beams in a house, or bones in the human body. But the day of selfishness must not be permitted to have sway in them or dominate them. Selfishness in the mass of men runs in narrow grooves and is comparatively harmless. But in combinations of capital selfishness becomes selfish, and comes to be a cruel power. Benefits undoubtedly accrue to society in combining capital, which never could be experienced in any other way. It is possible to cheap-en goods by manufacturing large quantities with improved machinery.
It is possible to bring such goods more cheaply within the reach of the poor, and we should be glad to cheapen all the necessities of life. But we cannot afford to cheapen men in order to make cheap goods. Any business that degrades manhood is to be condemned.
What the corporation needs is true moral impulse. The same law must be applied to corporations that is applied to labor, and the law of love and the principle of the Golden Rule is needed by both. It was for the purpose of making the laborer more than a machine and his life fuller of hope and inspiration that labor began to organize itself into unions. Indeed, capital taught labor the lesson of organization.
Seeing how well capital has prospered, it is no wonder that labor has learned the value of combination. It is in the nature of things that labor can do something without capital. But capital can do nothing without labor. With labor organized, the injury to one is the concern of all. With labor organization was inevitable. It could not draw its load without it.

"The second fact of the problem is the organization of labor. It is undoubtedly right for labor to organize.
This is capital's method and considering how well capital has taken care of itself by this method, the wonder is that labor did not try it long, long ago. The man who does not prize his intellect will lose it. Knowledge must be met with knowledge. Partnership of capital must be met by cooperation of labor. The core of the whole problem is aptly summed up in this: The employer wants the greatest amount of work done for the least amount of pay, while the employee, as a rule, wants the greatest amount of pay for the least amount of work. It is the battle between minimum and maximum. Hence the laborer must know his ground.

"While slow to combine, labor is at last becoming organized and the unions, I believe, are here to stay. Yet it is easy to convict them of follies and mistakes. They have sometimes had bad counsellors and selfish leaders.
They have resorted to boycotting and terrorism. They have tried to control the factories by their committees without consulting the owners, and they have restricted the number of apprentices in many trades, thus cutting off their own children, and they have sometimes organized strikes on very slight provocations. Yet notwithstanding all this they have their place, and they are capable of accomplishing great good for those they are intended to benefit. They have blundered, it is true, but the whole human race has advanced by blundering.

"Labor organizations, like all other novel business experiments, must be expected to get educated in the science of wise self-management in a school of experience of which the mistakes and consequent misfortune will largely enter as constituent elements.
I think it was Sidney Smith who said that experience is an evil to control but the school bills are sometimes rather large." It looks as if some labor organizations are now learning the truth of that observation; and it looks, moreover, as if some harder lessons than any which they have yet known will be written in heavy letters on the last result of a long and desperate struggle, such as seems already to have begun, the industrial classes must inevitably be the greatest sufferers."

Tired all the time;
Weary and worn out night and day;
Back aches; head aches;
Your kidneys are probably weakened.

You should help them at their work.
Let one who knows tell you how.

Mrs. W. W. Cole, 605 W. Third St., Hawford, Calif., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills worked wonders in my case and I think just as highly of them now as I did when I gave a public statement in their favor in 1907. Only those who have suffered from kidney complaint can imagine how much misery endured when I say that I had that for years. There was a miserable feeling through my limbs and my knees often swelled to twice their normal size. I really think that I have been doing long ago were it not for the benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever I feel the need of a kidney medicine, I get Doan's Kidney Pills and they have the desired effect. I consider this pre-

IMPORTANT REASONS ARE STATED FOR THE RE-NOMINATION AND RE-ELECTION OF
CONGRESSMAN NEEDHAM OF THIS DISTRICT

(Communicated.) For right consecutive terms this district, or the major part of it, has been represented in Congress by Congressman J. C. Needham. No other Congressman has ever represented this district in the United States Congress. Not only is the present time the most important time that could possibly be selected, but under the circumstances, the delay to a faithful and efficient representative would be a great mistake.

Congressman Needham has not only been instrumental in obtaining for the district one of the most complete and up-to-date mail delivery services in the United States, and has obtained an order for a re-survey of the San Joaquin river, in order to determine if it may be improved for navigation, and in every way has been vigilant, efficient and successful.

We therefore urge upon the voters of the district to give their immediate and careful attention to the situation, and to cast their votes for Congressman Needham at the ensuing primary, to the end that the unfortunate and irreparable mistake of his defeat shall not be possible.

AN OPEN LETTER

To T. G. Hart, H. Graff, Milo L. Rowell, Chas. Erickson, R. N. Barstow, W. R. Netting, C. A. Parler, R. K. Madsen, Levi Garrett, T. B. McKeely, B. W. McKun, Wyllie M. Giffen and A. M. Drew, Gentlemen:

In Sunday's Republican your names are signed to an address which is in the nature of a call to arms, the intent being to arouse the raisin growers of this congressional district against the re-election of J. C. Needham, who is a candidate for re-election.

If that is the case will you dig up your vineyards in the event of his defeat. Will Fresno county go to the poorhouse when the natural course of human events Mr. Needham dies.

Mr. Needham is re-elected and finds himself unable as he will find himself unable if re-elected, to wield the extraordinary power imputed to him and derived from his experience as a co-worker with the disappearing group that formulated the Ferguson measure, the law that killed Alameda county, to obtain unusual favor for this district, still you singly and in groups proceed to the bankruptcy courts. Hardly. The property of this section does not hang by a thread, so slender.

Hereafter, the tariff law will be so constructed that the benefits will travel as far as the eye envelopes. That means that the market for raisins will be vastly extended.

That means that the plain people of whom there are so many will eat raisins they then having the ability to buy.

That means that with a 2-1-2 cent tariff the vineyards of the San Joaquin valley and the citrus orchards of the state will be taxed to the utmost to supply the demand for our fruit specialties.

That means that those engaged in the business of production will make more money than they have ever made before and that they will not be compelled to carry any holdovers.

The present tariff is wholly wise and just. It is favorable to the producer and does not promote monopoly of a food product.

Then, it is absolutely in line with the progressive platform and it will not have to be maintained by log rolling or by countenancing the methods and aims of the special interests.

I assure you, for myself and the other progressive candidates for congress, that in the hands of any one of us the duty on raisins will receive the important attention that it is due.

I further assure you that if your candidate is elected he will be compelled to make new friends and new has fallen on the north Pacific coast and northern Nevada. Only light rain has fallen over this area but the weather is cloudy and unsettled. Temperatures are uniformly lower this evening over the entire Pacific Slope. East of the Rocky Mountains, except over the northern tier of states high temperatures prevailed today with most stations reporting 25 degrees or higher. Charleston recorded 100 degrees, the highest of any station in the country during the past 24 hours. Moderate rains visited today, the northern sections of the Great Lakes and eastward to the Atlantic coast.

Lower pressure over northern Nevada gave a somewhat lower temperature in Fresno today and indications point to continued fair and moderately warm weather Monday.

JAMES H. GIFFEN, temporarily in charge.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 1.—Forecast: San Joaquin valley: Fair Monday; light west wind.

Editor Republican:—Numerous and similar inquiries having frequently been made by raisin and fruit growers of Fresno and adjoining counties concerning the aims and objects of the California Raisin Exchange, the following questions have been compiled from the plan as outlined by W. R. Netting and his cooperating conference:

Q.—What is the primary object of the Raisin Exchange?

A.—To secure stable prices for raisins and dried fruits, and to get our crops are worth in cash, on delivery, and to establish a system and economy in the distribution and marketing of these crops.

Q.—What are considered stable prices for raisins and peaches?

A.—A reasonable profit to the grower in excess of the cost of production, such as obtained in any successful business enterprise, together with a percent interest on the investment represented by the land and improvements.

Q.—What should be based on a constant or stable minimum price that should never be lower than the cost of production, and below which no crops should be sold.

A.—The seasonal maximum price should be kept within a narrow range, never too high, and always with a firm upward tendency with safe conservative limits.

Q.—Has the cost of production of raisins and peaches been determined?

A.—Yes; statistics prepared by the University of California, and by private individuals, place the average cost of raisins at 24¢ a pound, and peaches at 4¢ a pound.

Q.—If a grower pays $10 for a life membership in the Exchange, does such membership impose any binding obligations on him or on his crop?

A.—No; nothing more than his moral support in upholding the Exchange.

Q.—What does a member get in return for his membership fee?

A.—A share in the privileges and profits arising from improved marketing of his raisin and fruit crops and those of his neighbor.

Q.—Who is his neighbor?

A.—All mankind, but particularly those affected by better prices for soil products in the district in which he lives.

Q.—Can the Million Dollar Raisin Exchange be organized and capitalized in a month?

A.—Yes; in a week, if all the subscription officers would be accepted, it is designed to be distinctly a grower's profit-sharing company, and packers who are growers may purchase stock only in proportion to their acreage, which makes up a small per cent of the whole.

Q.—Upon what authority are their statements made?

A.—They merely express a declaration of the principles of the Exchange and its auxiliary purchasing company, based on deductions from the result of the weekly conferences held in the office of the Exchange during the past three months, and which were presided over by W. R. Netting and the advisory committee of which the editor is a member. In this connection it is not desired to forecast and

B. F. Graham, New Owner, Is Making Extensive Improvements

A thousand dollars per day in improvements is being expended by Benjamin F. Graham, the new owner of the James G. James lands on the West Side. He intends to expend half a million dollars on the ranch of 16,000 acres. A great part of the land is subject to overflow and part of the scheme of improvements is an elaborate system of levees and drainage canals.

A new townsite will be established on the West Side line of the Southern Pacific, between Kerman and Mendota. The site of the town has already been picked out, but no name has yet been given the station. It was formerly known as Chicago, but is now dividing his headquarters between Los Angeles and Fresno.

pronouncement that may later be made by the Exchange, but merely to help to make the situation clear. All the writer desires is better system in marketing to enable him to make a living on his ranch.

Raisin Growers Attention!

Good Raisins Make Good Prices

We will furnish you at a special price Saccharometer (for grape testing), enabling you to make good raisins by testing the grapes yourself, and being assured they contain the necessary 22 per cent of sugar before picking.

No grower can afford to be without one of these infallible testers, as our prices are moderate, and the lateness of the maturing of the crop this year demands close personal attention.

Six Valley Cities To Be Represented in Parade at 11 O'clock

Free Barbecue, Baseball Game, Baby Show and Dancing in Afternoon

Union men of six valley cities will gather in Fresno today to celebrate Labor Day with a morning parade, barbecue at noon and baby show, athletic events, dance and baseball game in the afternoon. After the parade, the scene will be shifted to Recreation Park where the remainder of the celebration is to take place. The barbecue is the big feature and it has been predicted that 10,000 people will be fed free of charge under the trees at the park. In the baseball game, Fresno and Fresno will be expected. The parade will be formed at K and Fresno streets at 10 o'clock and the men are to march four abreast. R. W. McKnight, assistant business agent of the Building Trades Council, is the grand marshal and his aides are representatives of the affiliated unions. Grand Marshal McKnight expects to have the parade moving by 11 o'clock and to cover the line of march in one hour. The Fresno Traction Company has promised additional cars to provide good accommodations for the big crowd in making the trip from the city to Recreation Park immediately after the parade.

BARBECUE IS FREE
The barbecue will be free to everybody and extra precautions will be taken to have nobody leave the tables with even the thought of hunger. M. M. Henriques, recognized as one of the most experienced chefs in the valley, will prepare the barbecue. He will have six trained assistants and the long tables are to be served by forty waiters. The Labor Day committee has purchased ten head of young beef and 1200 loaves of Pullman bread to be prepared and served in the afternoon. Each loaf is three feet in length and the amount will be cut into 42,000 individual slices. Following the barbecue, the baby show and athletic events are to be held under the trees at the park. W. D. McDowell, past president of the Building Trades Council, is to preside and distribute the cash and merchandise prizes. Dancing will be held in the pavilion during the afternoon and evening with special music by Holden's orchestra. Prizes are to be given tonight in the prize walk, and a big crowd is expected.

ONE SPECIAL TRAIN
The valley cities to unite in observing Labor Day here are Fresno, Madera, Hanford, Lemoore, Coalinga and Dinuba. The delegates from Hanford, Lemoore and Coalinga are coming on a special train, which will leave Hanford over the Santa Fe at 5:15 o'clock this morning, returning at a late hour tonight. A round-trip rate of 50 cents has been provided. The Dinuba and Madera delegates will travel by their own means along to join the parade and march in the morning parade. The special train is due to arrive here about 9 o'clock and will be met by the reception committee, of which J. W. Carroll is chairman.

An escort of three mounted policemen will lead the parade and members of the board of city trustees will ride in the line of march. Several novel floats will be entered and the parade will be in two divisions, with four

AT ZAPP'S TODAY

Social Dance This Evening at the Popular Park

Today being Labor Day the management at Zapp's Park will have an added attraction. It will be a select concert in the afternoon. The concerts at Zapp's have become quite a feature and crowds are always there to enjoy the high class music. Today an especially fine program has been prepared.

Then of course there will be all the other attractions at the park. Every one of them no doubt will today enjoy a capacity patronage. The swimming pool especially will be a center of attraction for hundreds of gay enthusiasts.

This evening there will be a large dance at the pavilion. It is open to the public and excellent musicians will furnish the music. Blackstone Ave. cars go direct to park entrance.

PACKERS SCRAMBLE FOR FIGS AT 3-2

Crop Only 3,000 to $3,200 Tons Instead of Normal

Fig packers are out buying crops at 3-2 cents a pound to cover shortages and an offer of 3-3 cents a pound has been made, according to advices yesterday. Some of the packers are said to find themselves so short that a scramble for figs is apprehended. That the fig crop is not normal but will be only from 3,000 to 3,200 tons instead of the estimated 4,000 is the report now. The crop last year, which was a bumper crop, reached 5,500 tons, the crop this year was therefore estimated at from 3,000 to 4,000, as the crop last year was unusual. An investigation of the fig orchards has shown that the crop will not reach this figure.

The offer of 3-3 cents was made by the Rosenberg company to K. Karadad, according to reports. The Rosenberg company is reported to have brought the Blingame crop for 3-1-4 and the Guggenheim is reported to have paid 3-1-3 for one crop. Thomas Lynch was offered 3-1-2 last Saturday, and E. A. Walrod is said to have sold for 3-1-2.

Picking is now in full blast. There seems to be no particular reason for a short crop this year, as the dry season is not thought to have affected the trees. Short crops often follow bumper crops. The European crop of figs is reported short as far as can be ascertained from Eastern sources, though no direct information from Europe and Asia has been secured.

Following is a list of the streets over which the union men will march.

LINE OF MARCH
Parade will form at junction of Fresno and K streets. First division on Fresno east of K. Second division on K north of Fresno. March west on Fresno to I, south on I to Tulare, east on Tulare to J, north on J to Fresno, east on Fresno to K, south on K to Tulare, quarter-march on K to Fresno. The grand marshal will review the parade at entrance to the Court House Park.

Z. T. MAXWELL DIES AT BELMONT HOME

Held Contract for Rebuilding of the Garibaldi Building

Z. T. Maxwell, a resident of Fresno for about eighteen years died last night at his home at 1676 Belmont avenue. He was 58 years of age and a native of the state of Missouri. Maxwell is a contractor of note and was awarded the contract for the remodeling of the Garibaldi building about three weeks ago. He has not been well for two months, has failed rapidly during the last three weeks, and has not been actively in charge of construction work. Maxwell is survived by his widow, a son, Eugene Maxwell of Salt Lake and Mrs. Mary Maxwell Brown of Honolulu. The son arrived here two days before the death. Mr. Brown, the son-in-law, is proprietor of the Royal Hawaiian hotel at Honolulu. A eulogy was sent to the daughter last night. No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

MEMORIAL SERVICES TELLS POSITION FOR SALVATION LEADER HELD

Geo. Marchbank of Madera Says He Was Progressive in 1910 Campaign

The memory of General William Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, who died last night, was honored yesterday afternoon in a memorial service held at the Courthouse Park by the local Salvation Army.

Captain Walter H. Carroll, temporary head of the Salvation Army in this city, who presided at the meeting, opened the services by leading in the singing of "We Will Gather by the River," a favorite hymn of the General Booth. The opening prayer was eloquently offered by Dr. Thomas Lloyd of the First Presbyterian church. Following a second hymn, Dr. John L. Pitner of the First Methodist church, uttered a sincere tribute to the late commander. He opened his remarks by relating an incident that occurred when the Salvation Army first made an appearance in New York City. The drama and tambores annoyed some until the music was discontinued to suppress the alleged nuisance. One of the city was called upon to sign the petition but refused, offering in explanation, "It is believed in Jesus Christ as those men believed in Him and His teachings. I'd beat my drum, too. You can't get me to sign that petition."

DR. J. L. PITNER SPEAKS
Dr. Pitner went on to say that General Booth was one of the greatest men the world has ever seen in many centuries and that he had all the mental and heart equipment to take the leadership in the great war for humanity in which he was engaged. Booth, he was moved, said the pastor, that he was called upon to spread the Scriptural teachings among the outcasts of the different lands, and went at the task in an original manner. If he had tried in a conventional manner, declared Dr. Pitner, General Booth knew that he would have failed. Booth, he said, was not a conventional man. He was a man of great vision, and he was a man of great courage. He was a man of great faith, and he was a man of great love. He was a man of great power, and he was a man of great peace. He was a man of great wisdom, and he was a man of great grace. He was a man of great strength, and he was a man of great beauty. He was a man of great glory, and he was a man of great honor. He was a man of great fame, and he was a man of great respect. He was a man of great love, and he was a man of great peace. He was a man of great power, and he was a man of great grace. He was a man of great wisdom, and he was a man of great strength. He was a man of great glory, and he was a man of great honor. He was a man of great fame, and he was a man of great respect. He was a man of great love, and he was a man of great peace. He was a man of great power, and he was a man of great grace. He was a man of great wisdom, and he was a man of great strength. He was a man of great glory, and he was a man of great honor. He was a man of great fame, and he was a man of great respect. He was a man of great love, and he was a man of great peace. He was a man of great power, and he was a man of great grace. He was a man of great wisdom, and he was a man of great strength. He was a man of great glory, and he was a man of great honor.
